and City of Seattle's
GUN FREE ZONE

Gun violence has become an epidemic in our country, claiming more than 31,000 lives every year. In King County alone, more people die every year from gun violence than from motor vehicle collisions. This violence takes an enormous emotional and financial toll on victims and their families. Between 2007 and 2011, the estimated annual cost of firearms deaths and hospitalizations in King County was $177 million.

It doesn't have to be this way.

In the past 20 years, our nation has come together to make our roads and public spaces safer, equipping cars with seatbelts, airbags and child seats, and changing the social norms around tobacco use, especially among children.

Washington Ceasefire wants to change the social norms and conversation about guns in our city.

GUN FREE BUSINESS

PLEDGE We recognize that gun violence is a significant public health issue and that the presence of a gun can quickly escalate an altercation into a lethal event. We are proud to participate in Seattle's Gun Free Zone program, with the goal of keeping our patrons as safe as possible. Firearms of all types in the possession of civilians, including those with concealed weapons permits, will not be allowed on our premises.
